

Title of Work and Author: King Midas and the Golden Touch by Unknown Author

Climax:

- Midas becomes dismayed to find he cannot eat or drink, and he turns his daughter into a golden statue.

Rising Action:

- Midas wishes for the ability to turn everything he touches into gold.
- Dionysus grants the wish but warns Midas that gold may not bring the happiness he expects.
- Midas turns everything he touches into gold.

Falling Action:

- King Midas begs Dionysus to take back the golden touch, realizing that it is a curse rather than a blessing.
- Dionysus tells Midas that he can rid himself of the curse by bathing in the river Pactolus.

Inciting Moment:

- Dionysus visits King Midas and in gratitude for his hospitality offers to grant Midas a wish.

Resolution:

- Midas bathes in the river Pactolus, and the golden touch is lifted. All the objects and people he turned into gold return to their original form.

Exposition:

- Characters: King Midas, Dionysus
- Setting: Ancient Greece
- Situation: King Midas is a wealthy and powerful ruler who loves gold above all else. He spends his time admiring his treasures and dreaming of more wealth.

Theme:

- the danger of greed and the importance of valuing love and happiness over material wealth

Title of Work and Author: The Three Little Pigs by Unknown Author

Climax:

- The Big Bad Wolf attempts to enter the third little pig's house through the chimney.

Rising Action:

- The Big Bad Wolf blows down the house made of straw.
- The wolf then blows down the second little pig's house made of sticks.
- The wolf is unable to blow down the third little pig's strong brick house, making the pigs feel somewhat safe.

Falling Action:

- The clever third pig has a pot of boiling water waiting for the wolf.
- The wolf falls into the pot, ending the danger once and for all

Inciting Moment:

- The pigs decide to build their homes in different materials (straw, sticks, and bricks).

Resolution:

- The three little pigs celebrate and feel secure in the third pig's brick house.

Exposition:

- Characters: The three little pigs, Big Bad Wolf
- Setting: The pigs' homes
- Situation: The three little pigs leave home to build their own houses to protect themselves from the Big Bad Wolf

Theme:

- hard work, careful planning, and making wise choices are important for long-term success and safety